

Velketh

The Velketh are a major space faring race that resembles a cross between a human and an ophidian. Their skin is covered in a fine layer of light blue scales which gives them the natural equivalent protection of Jack armor.

The typical adult Vekthian will reach a length of nearly 6 meters, but their physiology only allows them to be 2 meters in height when fully erect.

The Velketh Empire is Matriarchal society ruled by a Matron Mother, named Amatheria. Matron Mother's are unique among their race, for they go through a mysterious process that makes them immune to aging, and makes their bodies continue to grow throughout their lifetimes. Amatheria is well over 100 feet in length. Their star empire is forward of the Sol system on the galactic spiral, and slightly core ward.
